City Reclamation, Inc. operates as a packaging manufacturer for the paper recycling industry in Melrose Park, IL. City Reclamation buys high grade waste papers from commercial printers and corporations. The process consists of sorting, grading and packaging the aforementioned for sale to large recycling mills such as, but not limited to, International Paper, Kimberly Clark, and Georgia Pacific. These mills take our product and turn them into items such as Kleenex tissues, paper towels, toilet paper and other daily used consumer products.

City Reclamation's goals are to reduce waste paper going into landfills and be environmentally conscience for future generations. Bench mark equation is the saving of ten trees for every ton of paper recycled. CRI has been directly responsible for saving over 10 million trees during the existence of our company.
